

Fin de Siècle 05: Eric The Gardener

Em piano riff (pentatonic)

(repeat over following lines)

Julius Ceaser came, saw, conquered, went away, 'cause it rained here all the time.

Too many sniffs and colds got up his Roman nose, so he left it all behind

For Eric the gardener to find.

Eric the gardener.

Eric the gardener will find.

(The following chords are formed/implied by the combination of the underlying strings chords and the piano riff.)

D6      Em7(add9)      CM7      Am/C
Eric the gardener.

D6      Em7(add9)      CM7      C(M7)b5

D6                      Em7(add9)                                      CM7                                      Am/C
Julius Ceaser knew that when his life was through, something of him would stay behind.

D6                      Em7(add9)                      CM7                                      Am/C
Not in a Roman tomb, or an Italian womb, but buried deep in English slime

Emsus9                      Bm7/F#
For Eric the gardener to find.

CM7/G                      CM7b5/D
Eric the gardener.

Emsus9                      Bm7/F#
Eric the gardener will find.

CM7/G                      CM7(b5)/A      D                      (D7)
Eric the gardener.

*(repeat piano riff over following lines, with Em pentatonic patterns (Em with A and D))
(based on chord sequence of previous verses but much freer)*

Julius Ceaser sleeps soundly beneath your feet, with the rest of humankind.

Dig deep and deep dig some more, dig to the planet's core, dig 'till you've gone out of your mind,

But all you will ever really find is Eric the Gardener.

All you can ever hope to find is eric the gardener.

Eric the gardener will find.

Eric the gardener.

Eric the gardener will find.

Eric the gardener.
